DEVOPS CULTURE

- Product-centric DevOps methodology advantages:

  - the team owns it: design, development, testing, deployment, maintenance, monitoring—you get paged when it goes down

  - optimized to deliver what the customer needs as fast as possible

  - "share nothing"—no updates from outside the team

DEVOPS CULTURE

- Product-centric DevOps methodology disadvantages:

  - new services will not look like old services

  - unfamiliar roles: "You build it, you run it"—Werner Vogels (Amazon)

  - massive cultural and organizational change

  - significant infrastructure required
